Understanding the Fundraising Goals and Methods

Mary's Fundraising Strategy

Mary's approach to charity fundraising is consistent and disciplined. She commits to raising $12 every four days, which may seem modest but, over time, adds up significantly. Her method involves:

- Setting a fixed donation amount per interval
- Regularly updating supporters on her progress
- Utilizing social media to reach a broader audience
- Engaging her community through events or personal appeals

This steady approach ensures she remains motivated and on track to meet her goal within a reasonable timeframe.

Julie's Fundraising Strategy

Julie's fundraising plan, while not specified in the initial statement, can be optimized by considering various factors such as her donation rate, frequency of fundraising activities, and outreach methods. For example, if Julie raises a larger amount per interval or makes more frequent appeals, she can accelerate her progress.

Potential strategies for Julie include:

- Increasing her donation amount per interval
- Hosting fundraising events
- Leveraging online crowdfunding platforms
- Building partnerships with local businesses and community groups

Understanding these strategies can help Julie maximize her impact and reach her $1000 goal efficiently.

Calculating the Timeline to Reach the $1000 Goal

Mary's Timeline

Mary raises $12 every four days. To determine how long it will take her to reach her $1000 goal:

- Total amount needed: $1000
- Amount raised per cycle: $12
- Number of cycles needed: $1000 / 12 \approx 83.33$

Since partial cycles aren't possible in fundraising, she needs 84 cycles.

- Total days = 84 cycles x 4 days = 336 days

Therefore, Mary will reach her goal in approximately 336 days, or about 11 months and 1 week.

Julie's Timeline

Suppose Julie raises $20 every 3 days, a common scenario for more aggressive fundraising. Then:

- Total amount needed: $1000
- Amount raised per cycle: $20
- Number of cycles needed: $1000 / 20 = 50$
- Total days = 50 cycles x 3 days = 150 days

This more aggressive approach allows Julie to reach her goal in roughly five months.

Summary of fundraising timelines:

Fundraiser	Amount per cycle	Frequency	Cycles needed	Total days	Estimated completion time
Mary	$12	Every 4 days	84	336 days	About 11 months and 1 week
Julie	$20	Every 3 days	50	150 days	About 5 months
